

THE INTUITIVE WOMAN

A Companion Guide to Connect to Your Soul and the Divine Guidance Within

BY DEBORAH KEENE

The Power of Intuition

Welcome to "The Intuitive Woman," a sacred morning retreat dedicated to awakening and embracing the profound wisdom that resides within each of us. In this sacred space, we honor the divine guidance that our intuition provides, allowing us to connect more deeply with ourselves and the world around us.

"In the light of calm and steady self-awareness, inner energies wake up and work miracles without any effort on your part."

— Sri Nisargadatta Maharaj

Intuition is often described as a deep, inner knowing—the subtle voice of our soul that guides us, protects us, and helps us navigate life's journey. It is the sacred wisdom that arises from our true self, the ancient part of us unclouded by external noise and societal expectations. By tapping into our intuition, we can live more authentically, make decisions aligned with our highest good, and cultivate a sense of inner peace and fulfillment.

In many cultures and spiritual traditions, intuition is revered as a powerful tool for self-discovery and enlightenment. Native traditions speak of the intuitive woman as one who listens to the whispers of nature and the rhythms of the Earth. Yogic philosophy teaches us to quiet the mind and tune into our inner voice through practices like meditation and pranayama (breathing techniques). Ayurvedic wisdom emphasizes the balance of mind, body, and spirit, helping us to connect with our inner healer and guide.

Today, I invite you to embark on a journey inward, to explore and strengthen your intuitive abilities. Through reflective journaling, inspirational quotes, and mindful practices, we will honor the sacred wisdom that lives within us all.

“The voice of the Great Spirit is heard in the wind, it whispers through the trees and the wise woman listens with her heart.”
– Native American Proverb

Intuition

Connecting more deeply to your soul and intuition can be profoundly impactful. It leads to a greater sense of power and heightened awareness, which enhances how you interact and hold yourself with people.

- Intuition as a Guide: Intuition acts as an inner compass, helping women make decisions aligned with their true selves. This internal guidance can lead to living more authentically and soul-led lives.
- Confidence Boost: Trusting your intuition can enhance your confidence in the choices you make, reducing self-doubt and second-guessing.

- Better Boundaries: Intuition helps you sense when to set boundaries, fostering healthier and more balanced relationships.
- Empathy and Compassion: A deeper soul connection can enhance empathy and compassion, improving interactions and connections with others.

When we ignore our intuition, when we don't listen to that voice of our soul, we:

- may struggle to find direction, feeling indecisive and insecure.
- often rely on external opinions and validation, and lose touch with our own desires and needs.
- find it more challenging to manage emotions and stress, leading to burnout and anxiety.
- experience a sense of purposelessness, pursuing goals misaligned with our true passions and interests.
- may struggle with setting healthy boundaries, leading to codependent or toxic relationships.

""You have got to discover you, what you do, and trust it."

— Barbra Streisand

"You must do the thing you think you cannot do."

— Eleanor Roosevelt

So before we begin, let's address some of those limiting beliefs.

What are you afraid of? Common fears are:

- Exposing True Self: Worry about opening up and showing your true self, fearing judgment or rejection.
- Inadequacy: Concern about not being able to connect with your intuition as effectively as others, feeling inadequate or left behind.
- Disappointment: Fear that this inner work won't provide the answers or solutions you seek, leading to disappointment.

Often, though, we don't even notice how we've conditioned ourselves to live separately from our soul, our inner knowing. We ignore signals from our intuition, and dismiss "gut feelings" and inner "nudges", and rely just on logic and advice from others. Many of us will over analyze situations instead of trusting those instincts ("paralysis by analysis"), leading to missed opportunities and increased stress.

Unfortunately, when we aren't listening to our intuition, we don't live according to what is right for us, individually. We'll make decisions based on societal expectations or others' opinions, or dismiss our true passions and interests. We'll say yes to everything, or prioritize others' needs over our own.

Even worse are the fears of regret, realizing we've lived a life that wasn't true to ourselves. We'll be unfulfilled and lack purpose.

Constantly pushing ourselves, we get burned out and exhausted, and don't make the time to tune in to our inner needs. We'll be stuck in relationships that are draining or don't support our authentic selves. Our needs, uncommunicated, will remain unmet.

Dare we say that even deeper, we might be scared to fail at something as personal and significant as connecting with our soul and intuition? Or maybe that we're somehow inferior because our soul connection isn't as strong or "real" as others? Perhaps even, are we concerned that following our intuition will make us anxious about the future, relinquishing control and causing disruption and uncertainty?

By addressing these fears and misconceptions in the safe and supportive environment of the retreat, you can connect to your soul and the divine guidance within so you stop looking outside for the answers and live a life you love and that is just right for you.
